Bodmin and Wenford Railway

1

Cornwall's only standard gauge railway operated by steam and diesel locomotives. A 13-mile return journey takes you through some of Cornwall's finest countryside.

Bodmin General is the middle stop on the line. From there, it is a 15-minute walk to the town centre with its shops, cafés and other delights.

The railway is open on most dates from March to October, as well as selected dates in February and November, and over the Christmas and New Year holiday period.

GWR have combined with this heritage railway to offer you an all-inclusive travel ticket that can be used from most GWR stations. Just ask for a 'through ticket.'

Bodmin and Wenford trains leave from platform 3 at Bodmin Parkway.

Yeovil Railway Centre

7

This railway museum features a GWR transfer shed built in the 1860's, which has now been converted to a fascinating visitor centre. It is the last remaining shed of its type on its original site.

The centre also has a Southern Region turntable and a 15,000-gallon water tower. These have been restored to working order for the servicing of steam locomotives. Mainline steam excursions to Exeter or Weymouth often call here for locomotives to be turned and serviced.

Yeovil Railway Centre holds regular events including Train Days where steam train rides are operated.

The museum hosts frequent additional attractions such as shed tours, model railways, art exhibitions and a miniature railway.

The railway museum is a 25-minute bus journey from Yeovil Pen Mill railway station, or a short walk from Yeovil Junction station, which is on the South Western Railway route between Salisbury and Exeter.

STEAM - Museum of the Great Western Railway

Housed in a restored Grade II listed railway building, STEAM tells the story of the men and women who built, operated and worked the Great Western Railway.

Through the pioneering vision and genius of Isambard Kingdom Brunel, the railway network became the most respected and advanced in the world.

The story is brought to life with archive film, stories of ex-railway workers, several locomotives and many hands-on interactive exhibits.

Open seven days a week except for Christmas Day.

Travel with GWR to Swindon.

STEAM is a short walk from the railway station.

Didcot Railway Centre

10

Didcot Railway Centre showcases the golden age of the Great Western Railway featuring a collection of over 20 steam locomotives, many housed in the old engine shed. You can also view an interesting collection of passenger coaches and freight wagons.

Travel in 1930's carriages behind a Great Western steam engine and experience the atmosphere of a sleepy rural branch line.

Journey back in time on Brunel's broad-gauge 'Fire Fly,' a replica of the original locomotive built in 1840.

There is also an interactive Science Learning & Railways exhibition. The centre is open every weekend and during most school holidays.

The Didcot Railway Centre is adjacent to Didcot Parkway GWR mainline station.
