Changes to our timetable

Following discussions with Government and the wider rail industry, Great Western Railway is reducing services to reflect national advice against non-essential travel, while maintaining services critical to keeping key workers moving during the current situation.

The changes prioritise key routes essential for those people continuing to deliver vital services as the UK responds to the current situation.

Individual journeys can be checked on

Summary of services

This is a list of trains that GWR are intending to operate in the week of 23 to 28 March, 2020. Services may change at short notice, and you are strongly advised to check your journey before you travel at

GWR.com/Check

Please note that:

- * Only GWR Trains are included in this document
- * Other operators may also be running trains on all or parts of these routes. This was not confirmed at time of production
- * Trains will operate in both directions, but are only listed in one direction in the summary
- * They will run on all days of the week, except when noted
- * Unfortunately we are not able to serve certain routes and locations. Please check with other operators for details of services to eg: Hereford, Banbury, Carmarthen, Gatwick Airport and Brighton
- * Not all stations are shown, and trains will call at all usual stops.
For full details, please check your journey at GWR.com/Check
